

enthused? You will be...

LOCATED IN the coastal suburb of Ferrymead in Christchurch, versatile communications and events company enthuse is making big waves nationally in the corporate conference, event and entertainment sector.

enthuse prides itself on its unique, enthusiastic way of doing things, and won the Best NZ Entertainment Company category in the 2007 People's Choice Awards managed by the Corporate Events Guide.

As its chief enthusiast, John McKenzie is a professional and talented MC, actor and singer, and with a highly skilled team, can add flare to any corporate event through theming and various entertainment and acting options.

enthuse's creative spark has attracted a wide range of clientele, from Vodafone and Cookie Time, to Noel Leeming, Westpac and McDonalds.

"We work hard on providing an event, an event organiser or conference with entertainment and MC services that are innovative, creative, enthusiastic, and above all memorable," McKenzie says.

"I love sitting down with a client and talking through what they want then throwing all sorts of ideas around. I look for anything to make it stand out and memorable."

Need a team-building activity that really stimulates creativity and communication? How about making a Hollywood blockbuster movie?

The film crew is poised and the over-paid talent is amped and ready. All quiet on the set! The director waits for the light to change, then... action! The clock is ticking and every minute means millions of dollars. Everyone works with one focus... to help tell the story! enthuse's 'lightning scripts' is a fantastic team-building opportunity. There is also the opportunity to have an Oscars-style awards evening.
